Police Break Up Narcotics Ring

NEW YORK (AP) — Police posing as dope-addicted beatniks said today they had smashed a million-dollar narcotics ring with the arrest of 15 men and a woman.

Police narcotics agents said those jailed formed the center of a big ring that peddled marijuana and heroin in Queens and Nassau Counties.

The agents grew weary and for 10 months visited the bars and sleazy apartments of numerous addicts to pick up clues to the dealers.

Thousands of Acres Flooded in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thousands of acres of cropland were under the swirling currents of Arkansas River flood waters today and damage appeared certain to run into millions of dollars.

Two Northwest Arkansas Counties, Sebastian and Crawford, announced plans to seek declarations as disaster areas to make farmers eligible for federal aid. Sequoyah and LeFlore Counties, across the line in Oklahoma, were expected to join in seeking the disaster declaration.

The Arkansas counties are expected to make their application today or tomorrow. Some banks have already sought disaster aid on farm loans.

One observer said the flood hit especially hard because in inundated low-lying fields just as crops were ready for the harvest. Past floods have come in the spring, when farmers had a chance to re-plant. But this year the loss may run to 90 per cent in flooded crop areas.

Agriculture officials estimated half of Crawford County's cropland—15,000 acres—was flooded. Another 15,000 acres was saved by a levee.

In neighboring Saline County as much as 10,000 acres might be under water.

Near Clarksville, the river swept over a levee and covered some 12,000 acres. A landowner in that area, B. A. Thompson of Hartman, said if all those crops are destroyed, damage will be near a million dollars.

About 5,000 acres near Morrilton also is flooded.

Most of the inundated cropland is planted in soybeans and cotton. A 300 or 400 acre truck farm near Hartman also is under water. There have been no injuries from the rising waters. Residents of the low areas all evacuated before the waters rose.

Down stream, farmers are racing to get crops harvested in low areas before the high water arrives. The crest is expected to reach Pine Bluff early next week.

At Russellville the resident engineer in charge of the huge Dardanelle dam project said the flood is not expected to hurt that work. He said the crest will be a foot or more below the level of a coffer dam built in the first stage of construction of the huge navigational dam.

Court Order Is Expected to End Dock Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Acting on President Eisenhower's orders, government attorneys moved to seek a court order today sending 85,000 striking longshoremen back to work from Maine to Texas.

There was little doubt a Taft-Hartley law injunction—requiring an 80-day return to work—would be issued promptly in U.S. District Court. A judge's ruling was required, but never before has an injunction been refused in the 15 previous times the government has invoked the law's emergency provisions.

A court order ending the week-old strike was expected to send the workers back to the docks no later than Friday, William V. Bradley, president of the striking International Longshoremen's Assn., said. "When we receive the order we will comply with it."

In ordering court action, Eisenhower repeated that if the strike were permitted to continue, it would imperil national health and safety and affect the food supply of the heavily populated Atlantic and Gulf Coast areas.

His order, climaxed a day in which the Taft-Hartley law's emergency machinery turned with almost unprecedented speed.

A fact-finding board held hearings in Washington Wednesday morning, wrote its report during the afternoon, and dispatched its Navy jet plane Wednesday night to Eisenhower's vacation headquarters at La Quinta, Calif.

Eisenhower received the report and ordered the court action less than 17 hours after the board started its hearings.

The 30-day halt under Taft-Hartley procedure is designed to provide a cooling-off period during which negotiations are to continue. But unless the strike is settled before the end of that period, the longshoremen will be free to walk out again and the government can do nothing except by mediation.

The union set out to win a 40 cent hourly wage increase along with increased pension and other welfare benefits. The old New York contract provided a basic wage of $2.00 an hour.

The ship lines offered a 30-cent three-year period in return for more loyalty in using automation for cargo handling. But the union contends that would cut down the amount of work available.

Bulletins

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The sheriff's office here this afternoon said it was investigating a report that a train struck a boxcar used as living quarters for workmen at Lamar near here.

First reports said that one Negro workman was killed and that there possibly were two other deaths of workmen.

The scene is near the flooded area of the Arkansas River, but Mrs. Herschel Hill, wife of a deputy who went to the scene, said she didn't know whether the flood was involved.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Commerce Department today gave figures on how much money each state will be permitted to obligate during the fiscal year for roads and superhighways.

UN to Discuss Nikita's Plan to Disarm

By MAG HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N. C. (AP) — The U. N. Political Committee agreed unanimously today to begin immediate debate on the total disarmament plan of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Priority for the Khrushchev plan was proposed by the chairman of the 82-nation committee, Ambassador Franz Matsch of Austria, after private consultations. His proposal was accepted without debate.

Matsch announced that discussion of the Soviet plan will begin Friday morning. Other disarmament proposals will be taken up in sequence after the examination of the plan offered by the Soviet leader before the General Assembly Sept. 18.

In suggesting priority for the Soviet proposal, Matsch recalled that both Khrushchev and President Eisenhower had agreed that general disarmament was the most important issue facing the world today.

Cotton Crop Estimate 14.6 Million Bales

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department today estimated the 1959 cotton crop at 14,602,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

This estimate is 14,000 bales more than the 14,578,000 bales forecast a month ago. It is well above the comparatively small crop last year of 11,512,000. The 10-year (1948-57) average is 14,646,000.

Cotton this year is being produced under a new federal control program designed to increase marketing by grouping the market pieces. It permits increased plantings over those of 1958.

In addition, the 1959 crop will be supplemented by a reserve and sales as the result of past crops surplus supply of about 8,000,000 bales supplemented by a reserve and the government holds most of the accumulations from the old crop under its price support program.

The average estimated for harvest in 1959 is 44,991,000 acres compared with 43,949,000 last year and 21,076,000 for the 10-year average. In 1958 some of the cotton land was retired under a soil bank program.

The yield per acre was forecast at 470 pounds compared with 460 last year and 329 for the 10-year average.

The Census Bureau in an accompanying report said 4,497,917 running bales from the 1959 crop had been ginned prior to Oct. 1. This compared with 2,622,740 in 1958 and 2,492,596 in 1957.

The indicated yield per acre and production, respectively, of cotton by states included:

Arkansas 547 and 1,475,000; Missouri 576 and 430,000; Oklahoma 320 and 400,000.

Louisiana 451 and 465,000; Mississippi 517 and 1,550,000; Texas 350 and 4,600,000; and Tennessee 550 and 590,000.

Court Opens Way for More 'Complaints'

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The U.S. 8th Circuit Court of Appeals today affirmed a lower court ruling that school officials the way is still open for Negro pupils to file additional complaints "in case of any unconstitutional application" of the Arkansas pupil placement laws.

The statement was part of a written opinion elaborating on the court's Sept. 21 decision which upheld validity of the placement laws and reversed a lower court order directing immediate admission of three Negro pupils to an all-white school near Pine Bluff, Ark.

The three-judge court pointed out it had kept the case open in District Court to permit filing of supplemental complaints and to guard against undue delays.

"In conclusion," the opinion said, "we should make reference once more to the provisions of our order directing that the defendants (school board) be enjoined from continuing to maintain the system of unconstitutional segregation, which has previously existed in the district and which the defendants heretofore have taken no step to disestablish."

The court reiterated its finding that the three Negroes did not exhaust administrative provisions and requirements of the laws before seeking to have them set aside.

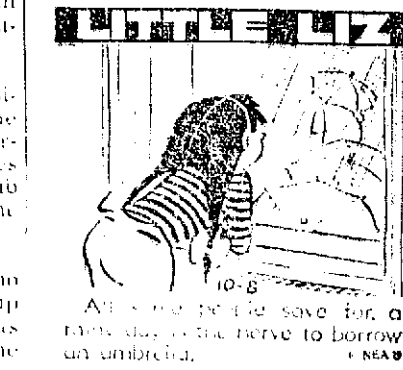

In his earlier ruling, Federal District Judge Axel J. Beck upheld validity of the laws on their face but ordered admission of the Negroes to the Dollarway School. The district appealed that part of Judge Beck's order applying to the pupils.

British Are Voting in Big Numbers

By DENNIS NEEDLE

LONDON (AP)—Britons voted in heavy numbers today for a new government. Late predictions favored the ruling Conservatives to win a third term in office.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, looking up at the sky after voting, remarked jauntily: "Warm and fine all day, with very good prospects later."

Macmillan's opponent, Labor leader Hugh Gaitskell, toured his home district of South Leeds in the industrial Yorkshire area to get out last minute support. Gaitskell, 53, had voted by mail earlier.

Shares on the London Stock Market surged sharply upward to reflect the financial district's confidence in a Conservative victory. Brokers crowded the exchange, jostling each other in a scramble to win the brisk trading.

Neither the Conservatives nor the Laborites ever have formed three governments in a row for Britain in recent times. The Conservatives won three straight elections in 1922, 1923 and 1924. But in 1922 Labor formed a short-lived minority government with Liberal support. The liberals won three straight elections in 1906, January 1910 and December 1910.

Despite morning fog—the season's first after Britain's sunniest summer and fall in 250 years—voters turned out in big numbers. The fog gave way to sunshine in many areas later.

Some polling stations reported the turnout running well ahead of the last election in 1955, when a 78 per cent poll brought 26,700,000 voters to the booths.

Cotton Contest at Blytheville

BLTCHVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas Governor Orval E. Faubus and Lynda Lee Mead, the new Miss America, are guests of honor today at the 20th annual National Cotton Picking Contest parade.

Miss Mead arrived here yesterday on her first trip back to the South since being crowned Miss America in Atlantic City, N.J. She said she would return to her Natchez, Miss., home next week.

Faubus was scheduled to address a luncheon meeting of contest officials.

Another honor guest, Ken Boyer of the St. Louis Cardinals, was to ride with Faubus and Miss Mead in a parade.

Miss Mead will appear tonight at the contest to select a National Cotton Picking Contest queen. Twenty girls will compete.

The cotton picking begins tomorrow. About 100 entrants will compete for $2,500 in prizes. The champion will receive $1,000. A dance tomorrow night will conclude the week-long festivities.

point 292,043 miles from the earth. When radio contact was made Wednesday, the vehicle was 78,750 miles from the moon and 236,957 miles from the earth.

There was no word on the results — if any — of the vehicle's survey of the hidden side of the moon. The announcement said only that "the scientific measuring instruments, the thermal regulation and power supply systems, continue functioning normally."

"After passing the point of minimum distance from the moon," the announcement said, "the automatic interplanetary station continues to move firmly along the pre-set orbit."

The announcement added that Luna's "shortest distance from the earth's surface will be about 40,600 kilometers (24,854 miles)" when it passes the planet.

At the time of last Sunday's launching, Soviet scientists predicted the vehicle might approach within 1,240 miles of the earth. But the new figure indicated it would continue in orbit indefinitely, since it would be far out of the earth's atmospheric friction which would burn it up on contact.

Rules State Courts Should Pass on Laws

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Three federal judges today reaffirmed a previous stand that Arkansas state courts should be given the first chance to pass on constitutionality of four state laws aimed at the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

The three took this position last January. On appeal by the NAACP the U.S. Supreme Court, did not say this view was incorrect but did order a reconsideration of the decision.

On rehearing last month, NAACP lawyers agreed that two of the acts might reasonably be decided by the Arkansas courts but they renewed their plea for an immediate federal injunction against the other two.

The attorneys did not say at once whether the new three-judge decision also would be appealed. Arkansas Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett, who wrote the legislation, argued against a federal ruling on validity of the laws.

The laws are phrased in general terms but Bennett has made no secret of the fact that they are directed at the NAACP. They were adopted at the 1958 special session.

One of the two which NAACP attorneys agreed might be decided by the state courts dealt with the stirring up of "unnecessary law suits or agitation" in the public schools.

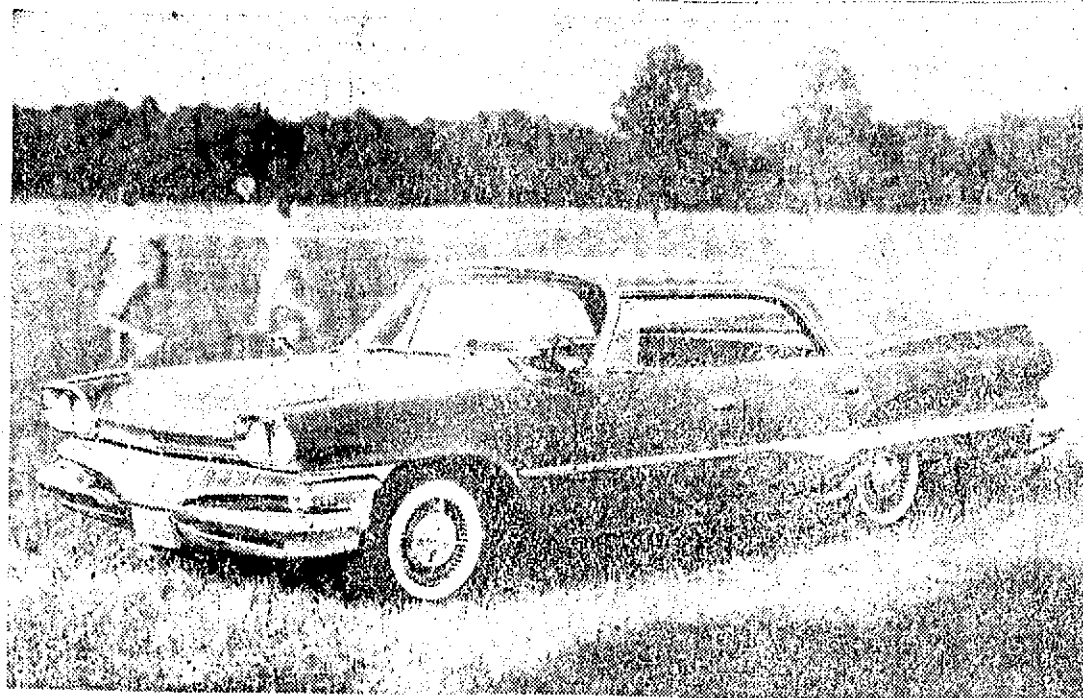

The others would require the NAACP and possibly other organizations, to file reports with county officials and would permit the state attorney general and county sheriffs to inspect organization records.

The three-judge panel was composed of U.S. Circuit Judge John E. Sanborn and District Judges John E. Miller and J. Smith Henley.

No state suit court has been filed involving the controversial laws.

Fugitive Is Sought on Sex Charges

PIERRE, Miss. (AP)—Raided officers resumed the hunt today for Ira Wilson Williams, 37-year-old fugitive sought on sex charges involving two little Arkansas girls.

Williams fled yesterday when Clay County Sheriff L. W. Walker and FBI agent Lynn Smith sought to arrest him on a federal warrant charging unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

After he bolted from beneath a house and sprinted into rough country nearby, a 25-man highway patrol team was sent in to help local officials in the manhunt.

Bloodhounds from the state penitentiary at Parchman traced him into the Sun rock area toward West Point, but rains washed out the trail last night.

Walker said Williams was a native of the Phenix area and

Blast Danger Threatened in Texas

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Fearsome danger of gas explosions threatened a potential major tragedy for thousands of persons in the capital city of Texas today.

A marine break in a 10-inch propane and butane natural gas line spewed the explosive fuel over an area of 33 by 33 blocks.

But police said the gravest danger was over.

Police Capt. Otto Ludwig said 200 to 300 persons had been moved out of the area. There was no panic.

Police, firemen, state police and troops from Bergstrom Airfield joined in the door-to-door effort to move persons out of the area.

Because propane—a heavy-than-air gas—may have an anaesthetic effect, disaster crews sought to wake every person in the area.

The sharp smell of gas blown by a south-southwest across south Austin, forced downtown section of the city into residential areas as far as 45 blocks away.

Radio warnings were being urged residents in the acute danger not to matches. Pilot lights were ordered out. Avoid turning on electric light switches, police urged people.

Schools were closed in the Austin area south of the Colorado River at least until the river bisects the city.

Workers of the Phillips Petroleum Co. shut off the flow 16 inch line 10 miles west of the gas, surging through line under 130 to 150 pounds per square inch, must shut completely before the could be considered under complete control.

Homer Hoy, a Phillips Petroleum Co. Superintendent in charge of the major north-south gas line, told newsmen a gas opened in a "weak piece" of around 3:32 a. m.

Rebellious Child Bride Needs Loving Guidance

By DOROTHY DIX

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I'm a young man of 26 with a 21-year-old wife and three lovely children. We had a reasonably happy marriage until this summer. I borrowed money from my sister to send my wife back to visit her people, who she hadn't seen for three years. Apparently she was fed up with me and all my family. She left here an amiable creature and came back a fault-finding shrew. She always got along fine with my people, but not now. My parents gave us our home, still pay taxes, and help us in other ways. My sisters and brother do everything they can to help care for the children, make repairs around the house, and now all my wife can do is complain about them. Her attitude towards me has changed, too. She's not the loving wife she used to be. All I hear is griping about why we don't

Mrs. Ivy Mitchell. The meeting was closed with the song "Rock of Ages." Refreshments were served to 20 members and one visitor.

Circle 4 of WSCS Meet With Mrs. Jimmie Cook
Circle 4 of the WSCS met in the home of Mrs. Jimmie Cook Monday at 3 p.m. with Mrs. Ross Moore, leader of the circle, conducting the business.

Roll call was answered by 18 members. The program was opened by Mrs. J. C. Carlton. A Thanksgiving Prayer for the United Nations was given by every member present. The meeting was closed with prayer.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Circle 3 WSCS Meets
Circle 3 of the WSCS of First Methodist Church met in the home of Mrs. Mary and Mamie Perkins. The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. R. B. Moore, circle chairman. The devotion was given by Mrs. Miller who based her devotion on 121st Psalm. The program was presented by Mrs. John Green. Parts were given by Mrs. George Newbern and Mrs. Green. A delicious salad plate was served by the hostess.

Circle 2 WSCS Meets
At Home of Mrs. F. C. Crow
Circle 2 WSCS of the Methodist Church met at the home of Mrs. F. C. Crow on Monday, Oct. 5 with 10 members present.

Mrs. Crow, circle chairman, called the meeting to order, opening with the Lord's Prayer in unison. The devotion was given by Miss Bessie Green. The program was given by Mrs. Ralph Roulton using as her subject "Are Missionaries Needed in India."

Coffee and cake was served during the social hour.

have this or that, why I don't have a better job, etc., etc. I'm plain sick of it. Will she ever change back? — Tony.

Dear Tony: You are paying the penalty for marrying a child instead of a woman. Your wife must have been very, very young when you were married and the responsibilities of three children piled up on her before she was really ready for them. She was doing all right under your family's tutelage, but her own people undermined her morale instead of bolstering it. Result, one confused, sorry-for-herself little girl. Seething will do no good, sympathy would be fatal, so try to cultivate a middle-of-the-road attitude until the self-pity wears off. I'm sure your family has grasped the situation; they all seem like understanding, loving, close family people. Remind your wife that she married you willingly, was ready to accept responsibility at that time, and that there's a long life ahead for the enjoyment of things she's missing now. Time will take care of this problem very nicely.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I have a sorority sister who could be a very sweet girl, but all she talks about is how much she drinks and how many boy friends she has. I'm sure she hasn't any boy friends, but know she does drink a lot. She is very much overweight which, I think, has given her an inferiority complex and she's trying to cover up for it. — Aline.

Dear Aline: Plunk that sorority sister into a chair and make her listen. Tell her she's drinking and talking herself into No. 1 position on the unpopularity parade and suggest that she eat her way out of it—eating the right foods in the right amounts, of course. Tell her you're willing to help organize a program of remodeling. Have a doctor make up a diet for her, and before long she will have the boy friends that now exist only in imagination. You can talk freely to a sorority sister; it might not work with anyone else.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I have read with interest and appreciation your many articles on treatment of the aged. As a social worker, I have come to realize that many parents consider children as a kind of life insurance policy. Mothers, especially, feel safe because "the children will not let me down." Time and again I have witnessed the fallacy of this theory. Many children provide, but in such a way that the parents feel they are a burden. Every parent should realize that the future is his own, that he should save for it, that his children have cares and interests of their own. Above all, wherever possible, the older person should keep his own home and not be sentimentally swayed by the airy promise, "Sell the house, dad, put the money into our new home, and you will always live with us." Dad, or mother, may have a 50-50 or more, share in their children's HOME, but not always in their HOME. — S.W.

Dear S.W.: What you have seen personally, I have met in thousands of letters from disappointed parents who gave everything to their young people, only to regret it later. I have always preached, and will continue to do so, that a parent with a home and income should keep some for life. Time enough for the younger folks to get money or property when parents pass on. A check-book is an older girl's best friend. Unfortunately, of course, not too many oldsters have this happy choice, so those who do have it should be thankful and remain on this side of independence.

I hate to be a meddler, but my sister and brother-in-law need help and I'd like to give it. They have one child and feel they can't afford another. They both work. He's on a day shift, and she works nights. They earn very good money and have every luxury in the world, color TV, two cars, and foreign, and plan to send their child to an expensive boarding school next year. Again, my brother-in-law objects to his wife working and is getting tired of preparing his own breakfast and supper then keeping the child six nights a week. How can I help them? — Sally.

Dear Sally: Your sister is an idiot, probably beyond help. Any one who places money or things before the welfare of husband and child is a candidate for divorce court. When her husband leaves, taking his daughter, your sister may realize that color TV is darn uncompanionable. She'll need at least a shock like this to pound sense into her. There's really nothing you can do. After all, if she won't listen to her husband, she won't listen to a relative.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I have no friends or family to help with my problem so am turning to you. I want to leave my husband because he beats me, stays away from the house for days and leaves no money. He knows I have no place to go and tells me if I call the police or have him taken to court, he'll kill me. — Desperate.

Dear Desperate: No woman has to put up with brutality and non-support. There are numerous agencies in your city willing to help you. Calling the police is no solution. Any help they would give would be temporary. Incidentally, don't be bluffed by hubby's threats. He's a great big bully, afraid of anything but a scared wife. Look up in your telephone book for the address of the social service department of your particular religion, the Family Service, or the Salvation Army. Be prepared, however, to accept their help and follow their advice. Don't run back to your husband because he promises to change.

He won't. Cultivate your backbone and you can make a peaceful life for your child and yourself.

Send your problem to DOROTHY DIX. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Still No Hope to End Steel Walkouts

By JOHN MOODY

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—Steel negotiators today came up against President Eisenhower's implied strike settlement deadline without hope of quickly ending the 36-day-old strike and apparently resigned to government use of the Taft-Hartley law.

Each side said it did not want government legal intervention. United Steelworkers President David J. McDonald said his union would undertake a legal fight to prevent it. But he said workers would obey the law of the land. The actions of both sides, however, indicated they preferred operating under a court injunction rather than acceptance of the other's demands for a dispute-ending agreement. The last joint negotiating session was held Tuesday night. It ended in complete deadlock. Since then there is no evidence that either side has attempted to arrange further joint meetings.

Eight days ago, President Eisenhower called union and industry leaders to Washington. He said he wanted to see some progress in negotiations before his return from a California vacation today.

Wednesday, as the President wound up his Palm Springs, Calif., vacation, a motecade of steelworkers visited his retreat with a petition asking that he not invoke the Taft-Hartley law.

White House press secretary James Hagerly greeted them and after reading the petition told them: "The President hopes the strike will be settled by collective bargaining too."

After the White House meeting in Washington, industry proposed a 15-cent hourly package increase over a two-year period. It was the

Quiz Official Won't Deny Charge, Fired

By JOE F. KANE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The producer of one of the few surviving television quiz shows has been fired because he would not swear that there had been no advance coaching of contestants. House investigators looking behind the scenes of TV quiz show operations heard that testimony Wednesday from Thomas E. Ervin, vice president and general counsel of the National Broadcasting Co.

Ervin said Howard Felsher, producer of the daytime television show "The Price Is Right," was fired last week by the network.

Word of the firing came after two press agents for another quiz program, the defunct show "Twenty-One," testified that program had been rigged. They said their lawyer had told them not to tell the truth about this to New York authorities. The lawyer denied the accusation.

After a long day of open testimony, the House Legislative Oversight subcommittee went behind closed doors to question Daniel Enright, a co-owner, and Albert Freedman, producer of the "Twenty-One" show, which once drew top audience ratings.

Both declined comment before and after the four-hour session. Today's questions were to center on Ervin, one of the first big quiz shows to collapse under the taint of scandal.

Most of Wednesday's probing centered on "Twenty-One." Late in the day, Alfred Davi and Arthur Franklin testified the show had been rigged. The two had been

Two Killed in Georgia Gas Explosion

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP)—Flaming gasoline killed two persons and burned five others when a 20,000-gallon storage tank went up with a roar in the southern section of the city Wednesday.

Firemen prevented the blaze from spreading to nine other tanks at the Gulf Oil Co. bulk storage yard.

G. W. Dabose, 31, was trying to fix a leaky safety valve at the base of the tank containing high octane gasoline at the time of the blast. He died instantly.

Otis L. Robinson, 38, also trying to stop the leak, stepped back to wipe his face. The flames engulfed him too. He died in a hospital a few hours later.

Burned critically were Mrs. J. B. Harper Jr., 34, who operates a tire and supply firm with her husband in the Gulf storage lot; Fred W. Mitchell, 32, office manager for Gulf; and Ivan Garrett, 36, a Gulf employee.

Treated and released were Melvin Taylor, 37, a Gulf employee, and John Franklin Moore, 22, a volunteer fireman.

There was no immediate estimate of the damage.

Taylor said he believed a spark caused by static electricity may have started the fire.

Thief Hits Benton Jewelry Store

BENTON, Ark. (AP)—A thief smashed a window in a main street jewelry store at night, scooped up about $100 worth of watches and jewelry and fled as persons in the store hurried to the scene.

Police said the thief was in a display case at the store.

The operator of a night hall said he and several other persons in the store but the thief fled about 10 p.m.

Sheriff R. Hester said fingerprints were not complete. The loss was covered by insurance.

Maine has an annual loss of about 44 inches.

Graham Says Mr. K Will Call on God

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham said Wednesday night, "Mr. Khrushchev, despite all you say about believing in God, someday you and all your kind will call upon him."

He referred to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, who toured the United States recently. He added to the 8,000 persons gathered for the second night of his 27-night crusade here: "And all those here tonight who have never prayed will know an hour when you will call upon His name."

"But the tragedy is that someday it will be too late to pray. The Bible tells about a man who waited until he got to hell to pray," press agents for the program. They said an attorney for their firm, Edwin Slovic of New York, told them not to tell New York authorities the truth about the program.

Slovic's law office later issued a statement authorized in his behalf. It said: "At no time were we told to tell anything other than the truth to any inquiries where-ever initiated."

Fryers and Turkeys, Lamb Good Buys

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Housewives will find the leg of lamb a good buy at meat coun- ters this weekend. Prices have been reduced a few cents on this item in many sections.

Another good buy is turkey. Other items getting special promotion include ham, bacon, sausage and fryers.

Eggs have tumbled as much as 12 cents a dozen in some areas. With apples in plentiful supply, and therefore at relatively low prices, produce men suggested ap- ples are the best buy in the fruit classification.

Florida offers oranges and pine- apples, which are rated good buys by produce men. Not to be out- done, California comes through with oranges and lemons as good buys. Other good buys in the fruit section are Bartlett pears, seed- less grapes and Idaho pears.

Sweet potatoes are rated as among the best buys in the vegetable category. Spinach is in the best buy list, as are cooking greens—kale and turnip tops, for example.

Good buys include snap beans, just about all kinds of cabbage, brussels sprouts, cucumbers, car- rot, tomatoes and cauliflower. Teeberg lettuce and broccoli both are pretty expensive.

Blast Shakes Area in NW Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A thunderous blast shook houses and buildings in northwest Arkan- sas and parts of southwest Mis- sissippi today, causing a flood of excited inquiries to newspapers and radio stations.

The Federal Aviation Agency at Fayetteville said it was only a jet plane breaking the sound barrier. "I didn't know what to think," said Deputy Sheriff J. B. Sumner at Bentonville. He said the three- story brick building which houses the sheriff's office "shook like a everything."

Sumner said police radio broad- casts reported the blast near build- ings south of Fort Smith — 90 miles south of Bentonville — to Mount Vernon, Mo., about 75 miles to the north.

The broadcast said the shock caused excitement in Rogers, Springdale, Fayetteville and other Arkansas points.

Sumner said a man at Center- ton, Ark., near Bentonville, re- ported he saw a jet plane streak across the sky just before the blast.

The man thought the plane had dropped a bomb," Sumner said.

Macmillan Is Favored to Win in Britain

By DENNIS NEEDLE

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's Conservative party was favored to win an un- precedented third term in office today as Britons voted to elect a new House of Commons.

Eleven-hour public opinion polls, the stock market and the bookmakers — legal in Britain — all indicated the Conservatives would win a majority of the 635 House seats and with it five more years in control of the govern- ment.

After a final canvass of 100 key voting districts, Conservative leaders predicted their majority would be about 50 seats, three less than when Parliament was dis- solved Sept. 18.

The Laborites also predicted victory for their side by a major- ity of about 15 seats.

Three final public opinion polls showed a jump in Conservative popularity. But they still reported a massive 16 per cent of "don't knows"—people who either hadn't decided which way to vote or wouldn't tell their decision.

On the London Stock Exchange steel shares made substantial gains. This indicated Britain's financiers were confident of a Conservative victory, for Labor threatens to put the steel industry under government ownership if elected to office.

The bookies also were still bet- ting on the Conservatives. You had to put up three pounds on the Tories for a chance at winning only one pound. And one pound on Labor gave you a chance at winning three if the Laborites were victorious.

The Conservative party chair- man, Lord Hailsham, was jubilant. "I thought the uncommitted would suddenly make up their minds," he said. "That is happen- ing. The gap is widening."

There were the usual victory predictions from the two party leaders. "We are going to win," said Macmillan.

"I am confident we shall win," said Labor chief Hugh Gaitskell, but he added, "To be sure of a good majority, we shall need a really high poll."

The shooting came less than 24 hours after the burial in West- chester County of mobster Little Alvin Karpis, shot to death with Mrs. Jane Drake Sept. 29, was a named a gangland killing. It is still unsolved.

Police said Brandolino, 41, a middle-aged gunman, was in- volved in several Brooklyn gang shootings in the last three years.

A further examination of this report by the group was made at a meeting held on 10th June 1968 at 10.00 AM.

A black and white comic book panel. In the center, a character wearing a hooded cloak is shown from the chest up, holding a knife and cutting a thick, coiled wire. The character's face is partially obscured by the hood. To the left, a speech bubble contains the text "I'VE GOT TO CUT THE CONTROL WIRES...". To the right, another speech bubble contains the text "FLASH-- STOP!!". The background is dark and textured with cross-hatching. The panel is framed by a simple border.

Made Millions of Dollars and Spent Them

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Once upon a time a poverty-stricken young office boy in a theatrical office picked up his pen and wrote his way to five million dollars.

"I have none of the money left, and I have no regrets," said playwright Mess Hart, who at 34 is still one of the theater's top earners.

"Looking back this summer, I was amazed to find I had written 22 plays and directed 11 others. It's a wonder, coming up to the firing line so often, I don't look at the week before 'Once in a Lifetime' opened. I was making $15 a week, the next week $2,000. And when it closed a year and a half later, I only had $750 left.

"But someone once said you only keep what you spend, and I believe it."

"I'm not a fool about money. It's because I knew the value of money that I'm not afraid of it, and refuse to worry about it. I feel that if you think poor, you write poor."

Mess, haunted by poverty and great dreams, had to go to work early, before he was old enough to enter high school. He has told of his early struggles memorably in "Act One," a best-selling autobiography that has not instant acclaim, which he hugely enjoys.

"I'm taking it big," he said pleasantly. "I hate mock modesty. And when I closed a year and a half later, I only had $750 left."

"But everything in life has its price. The wisdom lies in deciding when the price is too high. Some people are left in life with nothing but success. But you can't wake up in the morning and refuse to work your arms around a goal."

"To strike a balance—that's the trick. One has to strike a balance between the work and the play, and then—even if it is boring, unpleasant or even danger-

A heart attack five years ago led Moss to reassess his own life. "In eight weeks of lying flat in bed you make a lot of hospital resolves, and some of them you keep," he said. "After that nothing that happens seems quite so calamitous, and every sunny day seems a bit sunnier."

Author Somerset Maugham recently described Hart as "the world's best talker." He pulls meditatively on a caramel-colored meerschaum pipe.

"I'm a greater believer in not sitting down in your own mind," Moss said. "You can't let yourself become too comfortable. You have to shake up your life now and then—even if it is boring, unpleasant or even danger-

Union Earned Settlement, Officer Says

By JOHN MOODY

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The United Steelworkers Union today earned a fair settlement, according to its officers, after a strike "until justice is done." The union's 170-member wage committee issued a statement confirming the union's rejection of an industry settlement offer classed by the union as "totally inadequate."

David J. McDonald, union president, said no further meetings were scheduled with the industry. Talks collapsed Monday night. McDonald proposed a meeting with top executives of five leading steel firms, but they did not reply immediately.

With negotiations completely broken off prospects increased that President Eisenhower will invoke the Taft-Hartley Act with its 60-day ban against the strike.

Heads of the 12 steel companies directly involved in the negotiations have told McDonald that the industry negotiating committee, headed by R. Conrad Cooper of U.S. Steel, has complete authority to reach an agreement.

When President Eisenhower got the negotiators together after an earlier break up in New York he gave them until Thursday to show signs of progress.

The alternative, the President implied, would be Taft-Hartley action. That could mean a federal court injunction to send the workers back to the mills for an 60-day cooling-off period.

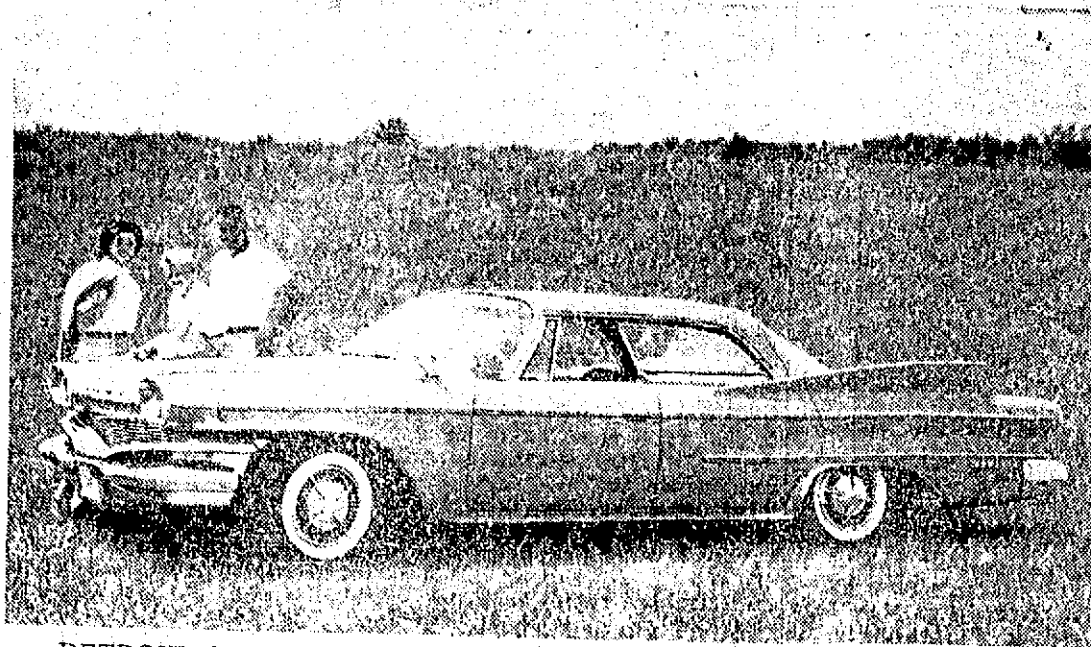

The fruitless efforts of days of bargaining became evident when the wage policy committee formally rejected the latest company offer Monday morning. The committee called the offer completely unsatisfactory.

The break up came several hours later, after a night negotiating meeting which lasted less than five minutes. Each side issued biting statements about the other.

One thing was evident from the barrage of news releases: The union and industry still are poles apart on their ideas about what should be included in a strike-ending agreement.

The industry said its proposal would mean a 15-cent hourly package increase for each worker during the life of a two-year agreement. The union figured the worth of the offer at 16.2 cents an hour for two years.

Either way, the proposal was

Assessment Nearing Goal, Faubus Says

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas' property reassessment program is nearing its goal of property tax equalization, Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today.

Faubus told a news conference that reassessment had been completed in most areas without a great deal of public opposition.

Recently, he said a survey indicated 75 per cent of the people favored the program.

"A few trouble spots remain where private reappraisal firms have set assessments too high," Faubus said, "but these problems can be resolved by county equalization board or, if necessary the courts."

The governor said he was pleased to see that a number of school districts were reducing millage rates because assessments had been increased.

"I think the program on a whole is working out well," Faubus said. The governor said that before reassessment schools districts where assessment had been pegged low benefited from state turn-back funds to the detriment of districts with fair assessments.

With all property assessed equally, state turn-back funds can be distributed on an equitable basis, Faubus said.

Faubus said reassessment would lend impetus to movements for county unit school taxation, a plan he said had a "great deal of merit."

Under a county unit plan, school taxes would be collected county-wide and distributed to various school districts on basis of enrollment.

"We have a situation in many counties where one school district is rich and the others poor," Faubus said.

"There is increasing sentiment for a more equitable distribution of school revenues so that all children will have an equal chance at good education."

Faubus said he planned soon to appoint members to a committee which will make a statewide study of the education system.

The committee, set up by a 1959 legislative act, will be composed of members of the state Board of Education and nine legislators.

Seven of the legislative members will be appointed by Faubus.

On another subject, Faubus has suggested that election costs could be cut by dispensing with pay for judges and clerks.

N. Y. Negro Students Stage Demonstration

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y. (AP)—Negroes demonstrated before the Lincoln Elementary School Monday, demanding that the public—predominantly Negro—be transferred.

About 500 of the pupils failed to show up, and Dr. Herbert C. Clish, school superintendent, said some classes were in an uproar.

A leader in the demonstration, the Rev. M. De Witt Bullock, said scaffolding had to be used to keep cement and bricks from falling off the 70-year-old building.

A school spokesman said the building had state approval.

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP)—Officials of the Interstate Petroleum Corp. of Tennessee announced yesterday that the firm will locate a 50,000-barrel petroleum gas terminal in West Memphis.

W. L. Holloway, corporation director, said the gas would be piped to West Memphis for distribution in the Mid South. He said the firm also plans a terminal at Duncan, Okla., and estimated the cost of the two facilities at $2,500,000.

The West Memphis terminal will employ about 18 persons. Construction is expected to begin in about 60 days.

Stay Order Granted in Hospital Case

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Circuit Judge P. E. Dobbs today granted old directors of the Ouachita General Hospital a stay of his order approving their ouster pending an appeal to the Arkansas Supreme Court.

That means that the board which County Judge H. W. Warren is seeking to remove, will remain in control until the Supreme Court rules on the case.

Apparently E. T. Whitworth will remain as hospital administrator unless he insists on leaving.

Whitworth tried to resign last week. The old board refused to accept the resignation.

Yesterday Dobbs held that Warren acted within his authority in dismissing the old board.

Warren appointed a new board which accepted Whitworth's resignation and named C. J. Dickson as administrator.

Dobbs' stay order today leaves the hospital with two boards even though the new one won't be able to act until the Supreme Court makes a decision and possibly not then.

ABC had a couple of new shows starting Sunday, too. "The Rebel" is another Western. It stars Nick Adams, a young actor who gives the show a certain zing. Partly because the hero, a Confederate army veteran, sports an accent which is pure Brooklyn.

The other ABC show is "The Alaskans" — a solid hour concerned with sled dogs, snow and gold. But it's hard to tell the good guys from the bad guys by their parkas.

Nikita Plan Finds Trouble in Red China

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev apparently has run into trouble in his campaign to get Communist China to join in reducing East-West tensions.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, summing up his impression of Khrushchev's visit to Peking following his Camp David talks, told newsmen: "I would say that I can see no visible easing of tensions as between Chinese Communists and ourselves."

Herter also suggested the possibility of a split in the foreign policy lines of the Soviet and Red Chinese governments. He noted that Khrushchev had "talked quite eloquently" during his Chinese trip about solving international problems by peaceful means and that Chinese Communist leader Mao Tse-tung "never made any statement at all."

This striking contrast of behavior counted with the Chinese Reds' continued denunciation of the United States as "imperialist" and "aggressive" seemed to indicate that Khrushchev and the Soviet government "are taking a rather different line," Mr. Herter said, "from that of the Communist Chinese."

Khrushchev went to Peking after touring the United States. He is believed to have given the Chinese Reds a full account of his talks with President Eisenhower during which Eisenhower and he agreed that "all outstanding international questions" should be settled by peaceful negotiations.

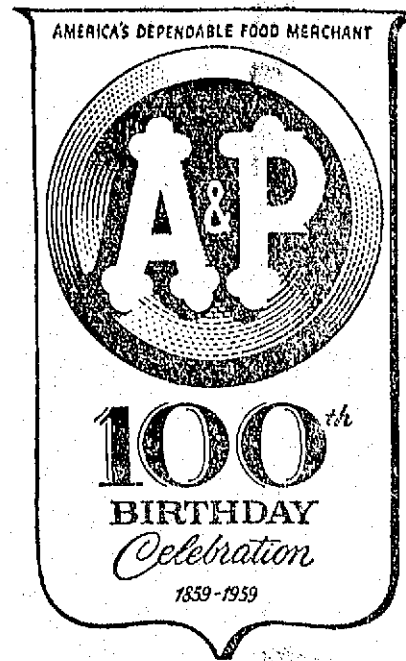

Herter, in his first news conference here since early July, said he thought the Khrushchev trip to the United States had resulted in some easing of tensions between the United States and the Soviet Union.

As to the long-range value of the visit, Herter said "time will tell, but I would like to be optimistic."

The Eisenhower-Khrushchev agreement on Berlin — providing that future negotiations may run on indefinitely — has had the effect of lifting the Soviet threat to try to force the Western Allies out of West Berlin, Herter said in response to a question. But there was no agreement, he added, on any new plan for settling the Berlin dispute.

onto them than are banks which use them for setting up credit for loans to business—which the money managers tab inflationary.
But there are others who aren't so pleased.
Seeing their customers withdraw funds to buy Treasury notes, some banks are wondering if they'll have to raise the interest rates they pay on time deposits to compete. Savings and loan associations have the same problem.
Since these two are prime sources of money for mortgage investment, builders are asking if available funds for the housing boom will be drying up from the Treasury competition.
But the Treasury's success takes it out of the really short-term money market for that amount, easing some of the pressure that has been sending interest rates up.

The Treasury now plans to tap the money market only two or three times more before February. After that it expects to live off increased tax collections. And this, too, will ease pressure on the money market and help hold down interest rates.
Officials at the Arkansas State Hospital for Nervous Diseases say that over one third of the patients sent to the State hospital could be successfully treated at out-patient clinics at one-fourth the cost to the taxpayers.

The Undecided Voter Is Key in Britain

Foreign News Commentary
By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor
That popular character, "the undecided voter," is the key figure in Great Britain's general elections Thursday.
It could well be a far-reaching decision.
British popularity polls now place Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's Conservatives and Hugh Gaitskill's Laborites in a dead-heat for the voters' affections. key is the five and a half million to six million voters, out of a total of some 28 million, who still have not made up their minds.

To help them make up their minds, British voters have been treated to these definitions:
By the Conservatives, speaking of Laborite proposals to up pensions and at the same time cut taxes "Desperate measures by desperate men."
Real Issues Present
By the Laborites, speaking of the past, a party of jingoism and the Conservatives "A party of international anarchy, the party of out-of-date colonialism, the party of Cyprus and Suez. . . the party of privilege, the party of the snobs and the servile and the stuffed shirt."

Back of all the verbiage, however, were real issues, both domestic and foreign.
Generally speaking, it is next to impossible today for any major power to bring about a reversal or even quick changes in foreign policy, regardless of what party may win an election.
But even minor changes may lead to friction.
Between the United States and Britain over the years, numerous understandings have been built up. They cover the world.
Oppose Bases
The Labor Party dislikes the idea of U.S. atomic bases in Britain but has said it will carry out original commitments. It favors the idea of a disengagement of forces in Europe (strongly opposed by the U.S.), and smiles upon the Polish Rapacki Plan for an atom-free belt through central Europe.

Labor also would favor leaving the atomic arms race entirely to the U.S. and the Soviet Union, while the rest of the world stood aside.
Labor, much more so than the Conservatives, could be expected to be critical of U. S. decisions as they arose in moments of crisis.
Any of these differences could lead to a strain.
Internally, the Laborites have said they will nationalize the steel industry, cut sales taxes and increase pensions.
